St. Andrews

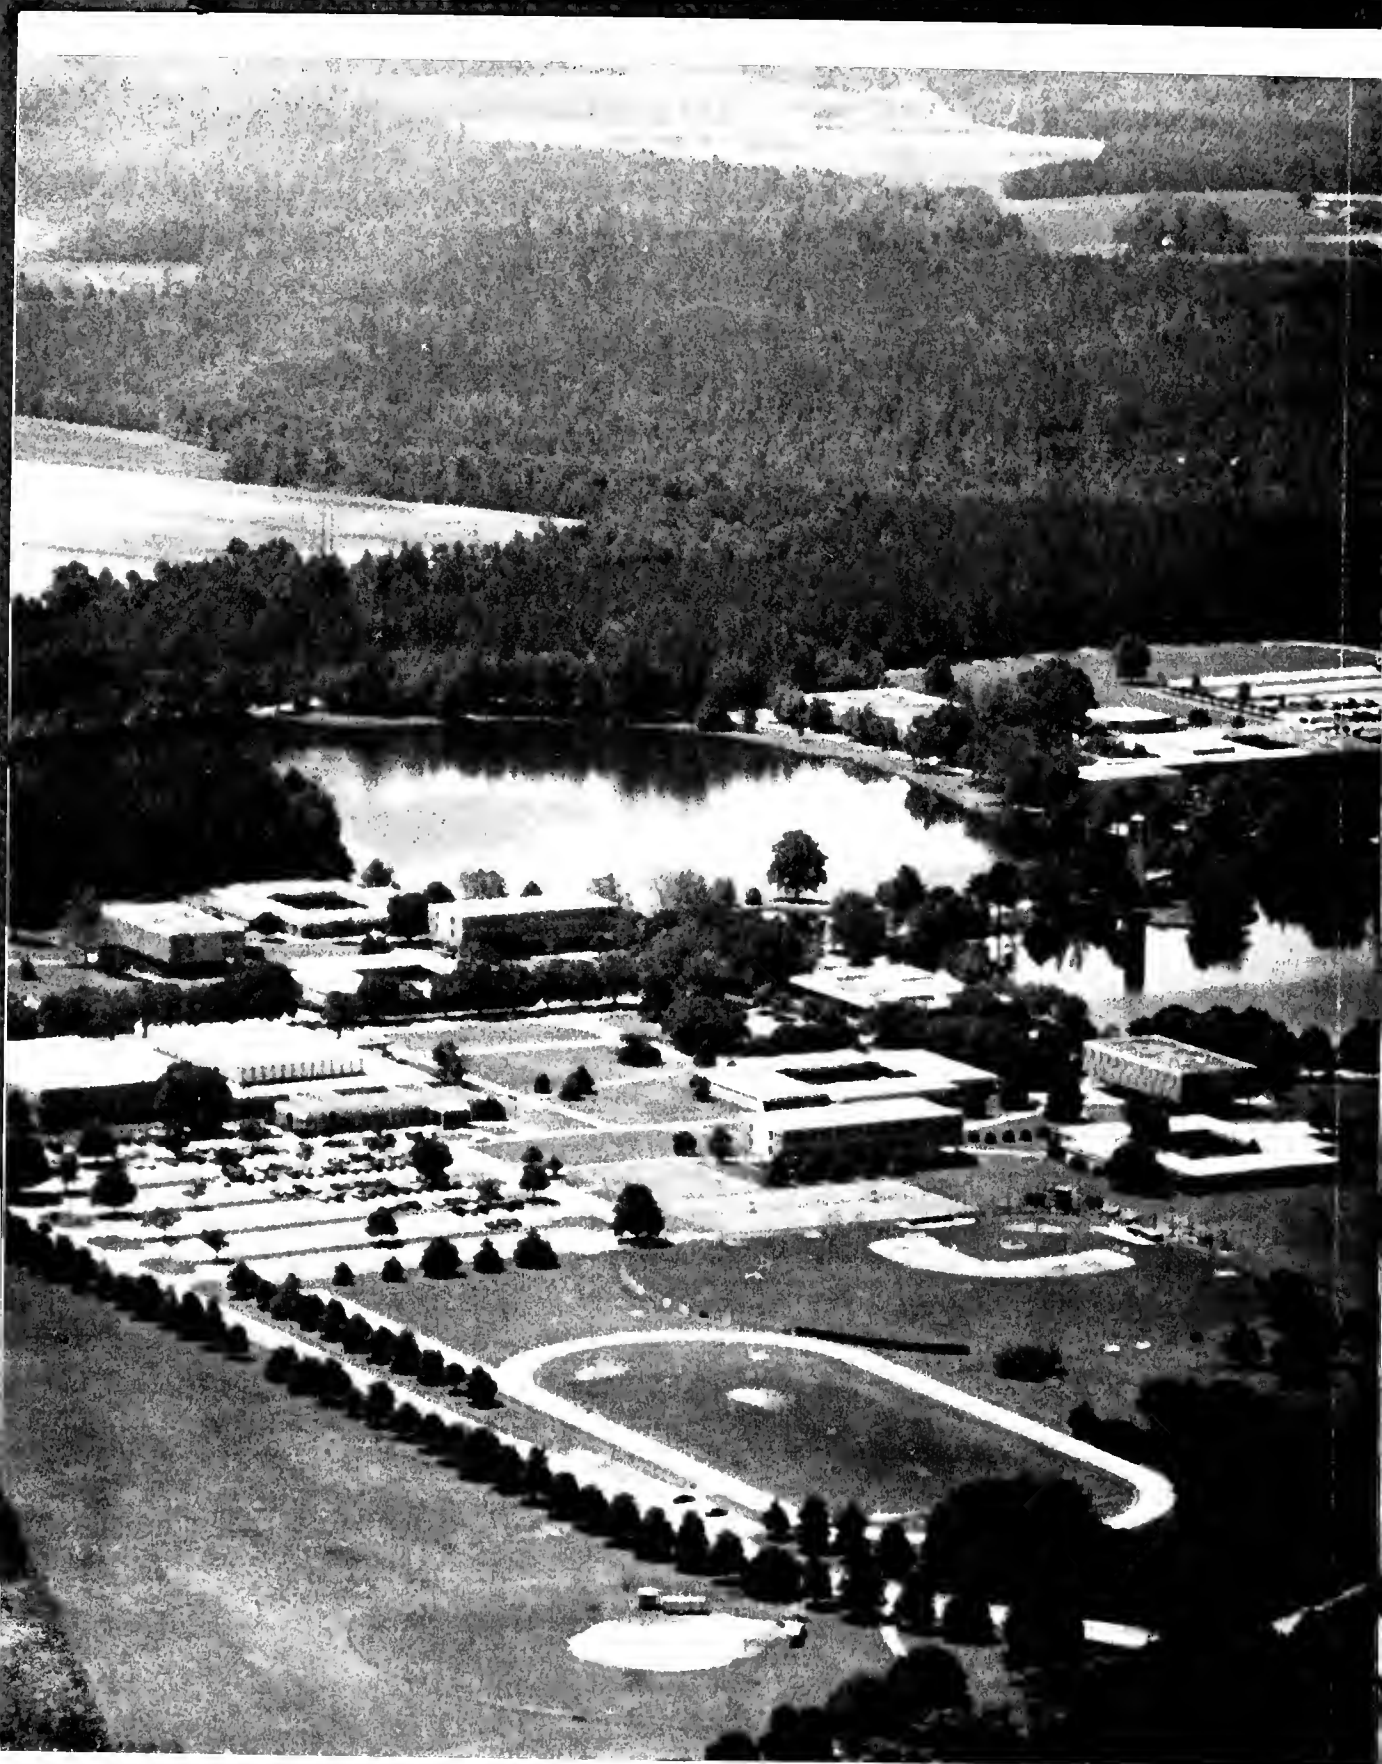

St. Andrews Presbyterian College

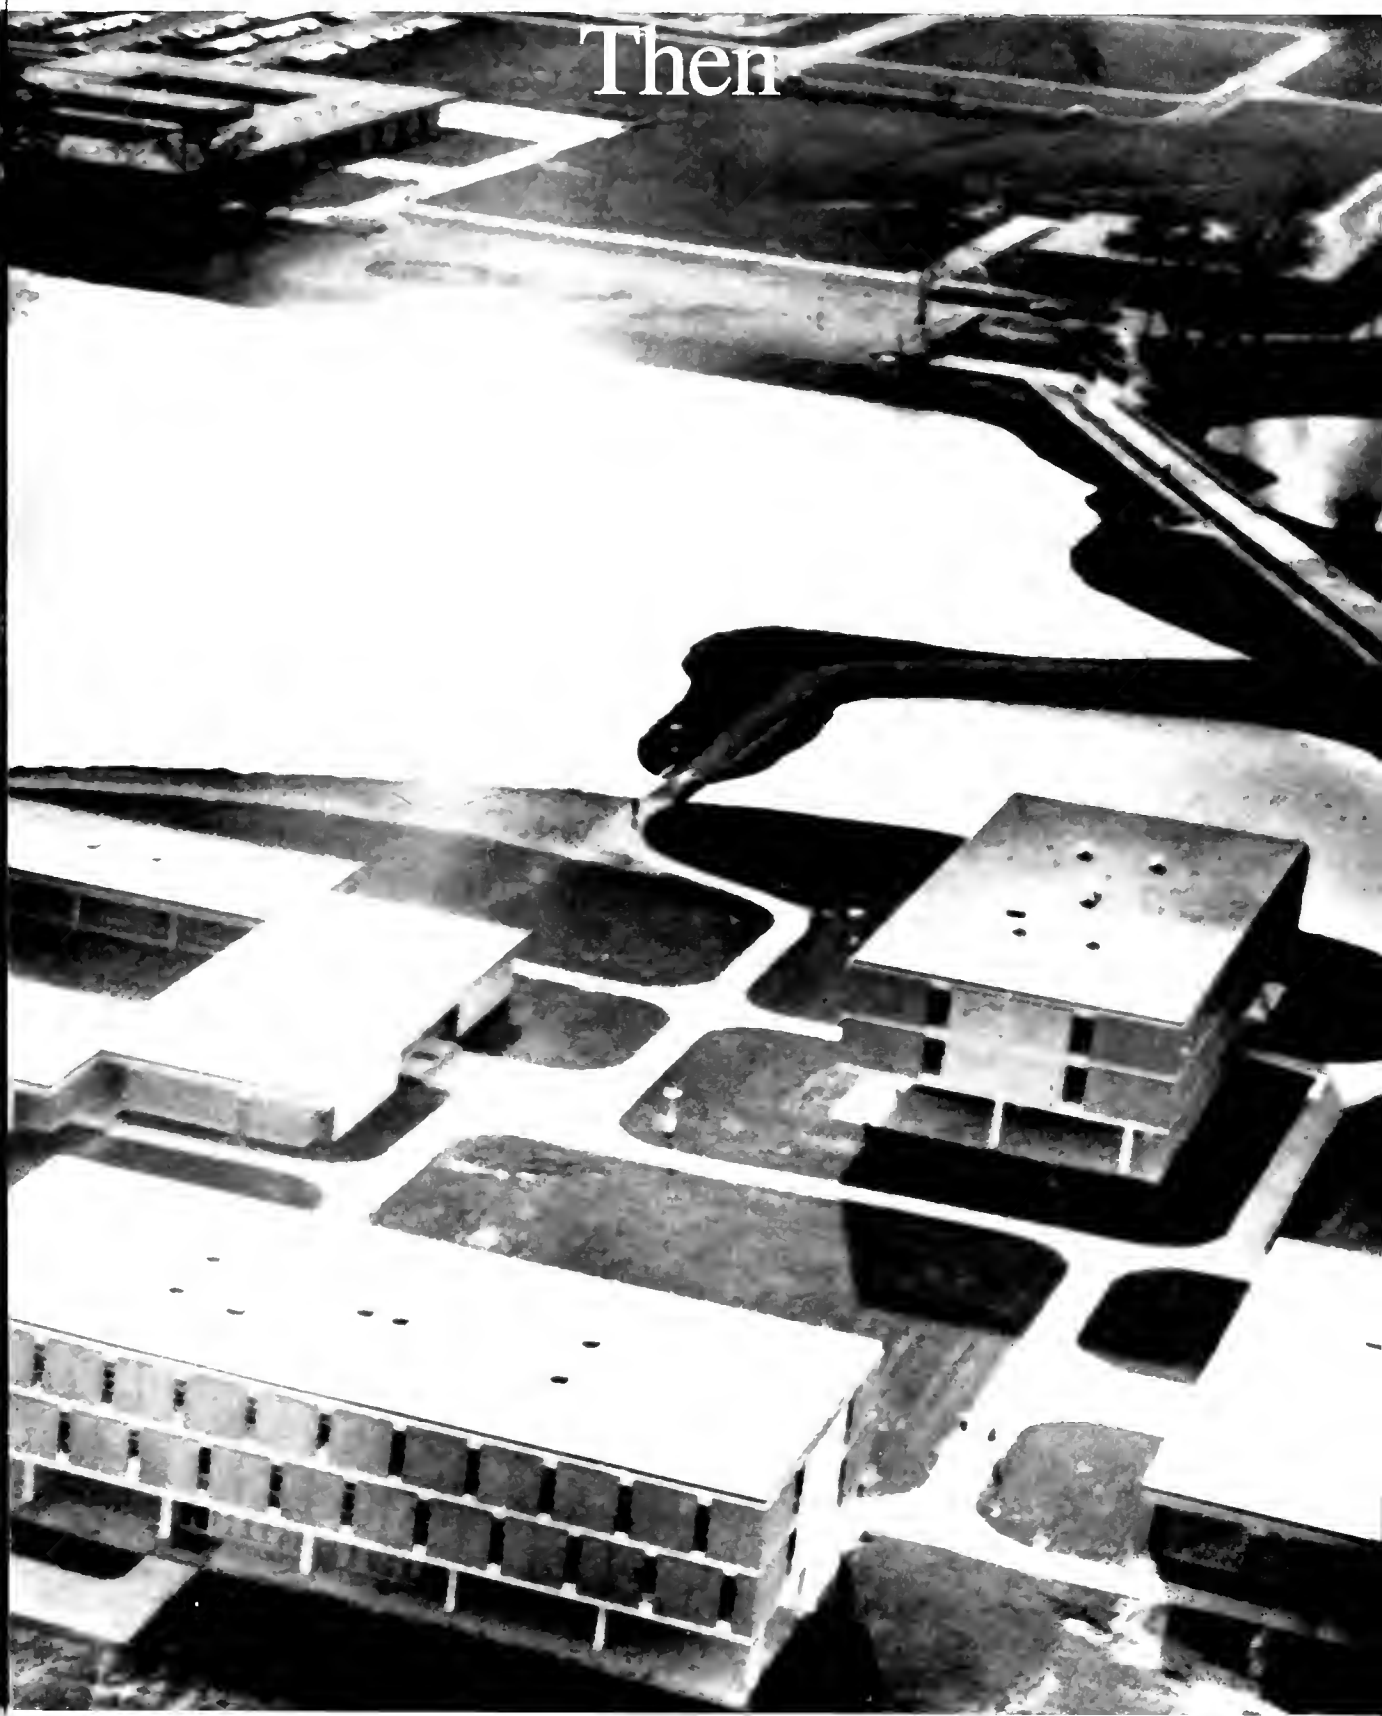

St. Andrews is a place many people associate with words like uncommon, different, unique, challenging, accepting, exceptional, special, and even wild -- sometimes. But most of us just consider SA our home away from home. For the most part, we all call each other by our first names and always seem to say "hello" even if we do not know to whom we are saying "hello". We are the center of difference. There is no other place, no other school like SA. Every one of us has at some point in time searched for a place where we feel we belong; for many of us, St. Andrews has become that place, the place where we are accepted and respected no matter who we are or where we come from. That is the very essence of St. Andrews. Chuck and I have tried to maintain the standard of excellence we all expect. If we have misspelled your name, or forgotten someone, we are truly sorry. If you do not find yourself pictured, then it is probably because you opted not to jump in front of the camera. As you flip through these pages, Chuck and I hope you see familiar faces, even your own. But most of all, we hope that you will recall fond memories from this year, be it your first or your last. So to the class of 1998 and the rest of the St. Andrews community, we proudly present, NOW AND THEN.

Opening 1

Then

NOW

The year is 1997,
the place is SAPC
and the time is now.
Gone are the puffy
hairstyles, the buffy
skirts and the stuffy neckties. SAPC has got a new style of dress, hair and flair.
Parties, events,
plays, and games
are the happening
things, and everyone is invited.

Student Life

THEN

Imagine a time before "Disco" before "Raves" a time before "Jurassic Park" (maybe not that far). Think of Back Then, hairsprays and all, when the top song was "She Wore Blue Velvet" and the twist was the hottest dance around.

Oh How We've Changed

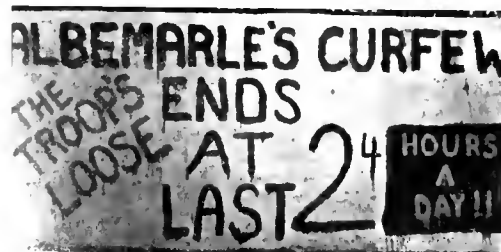

Many things remain the same here at St. Andrews, (the desks, the mattresses, Neal Classes, etc.) but in some ways we've really changed. Here are a few, small changes.

We look a little different.

We're a little more laid back.

NOW

Pictures often say things better than words. If that is true, then these pictures have a lot to say about St. Andrews and about us, the students. So now for your viewing pleasure, here are some pictures of NOW that may make you smile, make you wonder and make you cry with laughter.

THEN

Looking at these pictures gives me the funny feeling that there are things at SAPC that refuse to change. For example, the Afro hair cut, the Toga attire (certainly no Ogie from Muskogee), and the guy who looks like the man from the "Miller Light" commercials, in your weekly Rolling Stone magazine. Just a little something to make you go Hhhmmmmmm!

NOW

We are the champions... well, maybe not always. But the Knights did kick some butt every once in a while, and they had fun doing it. The Damsels of the Dungeon weren't the only ones cheering as the basketball team beat West Virginia and the lacrosse team played top national teams. Go Knights!

Athletics

THEN

Canoeing on the lake was not only allowed, but encouraged, as SA had a canoe team. There was wheelie football, cheerleading and wrestling. In the 60s, the soccer team said SA's food was better than the food at any other college where they played. (Students still complained.) The gym didn't open until 1966, so early basketball games were played at the National Guard Armory.

Cross Country

Back row: Ryan Alexander, David Hudson, Liz Harris, Mike Daly, Erin Parkington, Luis Ramirez, Annmarie Mattioli, Martin Rosario, Bill Reemer, Jimmy Ikner, Coach Perron, and Lisa Fraser. Front Row: Dan Auman, Jessica Koscielniak, and Mike Robinson.

The crew unwinding at a classy joint singing karaoke and throwing a few back.

Luis Ramirez running a hard race. He keeps going, and going, and going...

A few tired girls, looking for someone to lean on.

Equestrian

The three champions stand amongst their awards.

Above: The anxious crowd smiles as the St. Andrews student guides the horse over the hurdle.

Above right: The majestic horse amid a graceful glide over a hurdle.

Right: The rider struggles to clear this hurdle.

Volleyball

The volleyball team reaches for the sky.

SPIKE!

Do you have it?

Where's the ball, Jody?

Tennis

Jayne Hudson, Noreen Hayden, Lisa Fraser, Becky Hogan, Fiona Walters, Britta Reide, Ryan Degnan, Matija Corkovic, Troy Burton, Neil Bennet, Denis Hilton, Jose Villalba, Mark Wagner, and Jamie Joss.

NOW

Art Mafia members paint a mural in Highland Hall. Ecuadorean students perform for the international dinner, the campus is decorated for GANZA. Keith Haring-style, Women's Issues Forum members go rock climbing, a person from a Discovery Place ignites a mixture of nitrogen and oxygen in the middle of Avinger. We work hard, but we're never boring.

THEN

Once upon a time, hep-cat DJs and impromptu, unplugged concerts filled the air with tunes, and other students were always happy to listen. Rabbit hunting was not uncommon in the woods around the campus and, yes Virginia, the Lance had four editors. Those were the days.
